The theme of THE WYOMING this year is the student and student life. The yearbook is compiled by the students, not by the faculty or administration, and is printed to retain memories for the students.

In this edition of THE WYOMING we have attempted to express the feelings and opinions of the students, using the yearbook as our medium.

In addition we have tried to change the format of the yearbook, and we have introduced some new ideas. Because of the added changes, the staff has been faced with more worries and work. We feel the finished product, though has been worth our time, effort, and, of course, frustration.

DEDICATION

The choice at this year's dedication is a fourteen-year teacher and coach at Wyoming Seminary, Gary Vanderburg. He is widely recognized on the campus by his cheap sense of humor and reputation as a noted misogynist. Mr. Vanderburg is also a very committed coach, a fact made obvious by his receiving the Coach Of The Year Award from the Wyoming Valley Conference Division Two Basketball League in 1983. He is not only concerned that the boys develop strong playing skills and sportsmanship but also that their record be a winning one. Ask any member of the Vanderburg family what the household atmosphere is like when Seminary doesn't win.

Mr. Vanderburg has always conveyed a positive attitude about the school and is thus well regarded by faculty and students alike. He is dedicated to the teaching of his subjects and to the sports program at school. Students over the years have appreciated his fairness inside and outside the classroom.

Mr. Vanderburg is also an intrepid biologist who candidly admits his fear of snakes. No one in this year's A.P. Biology class will ever forget the highly visual stories with which he enlightened us concerning his encounters with these slithering reptiles.

Mr. Vanderburg has also been the advisor/supervisor of the W Club and its activities over the years and is also the present assistant football coach and former track coach.

Mr. Vanderburg is a very deserving recipient of this dedication, an acknowledgement probably long overdue. I know that each of us has benefitted from his presence in some form or another whether it be as teacher, coach or friend. Our sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Vanderburg for all of his time, patience and effort.

THE SOCCER TEAM

In August of this past summer the soccer team, along with coach Farshtey and four other advisors, toured the People's Republic of China and Japan. Also going on this trip were three reporters from a local television station and a reporter from a local newspaper.

The team suffered through such Chinese delicacies as duck stomach, sea worms, and octopus, while praying for the McDonald's and Shakey's Pizza that were waiting for us in Japan.

While we were in China we saw many magnificent sights, like the Great Wall and the Ming Tombs. We were also fortunate enough to visit sights that American tourists normally are not allowed to see.

The team finished with an overall record of one win, two losses and one tie. Everyone came back with fond memories of the many friends we met and the experiences we had. The trip itself was more exciting than we could have imagined. We came back to the United States feeling honored to have been able to take the trip, but also grateful to be home.

INVADES CHINA

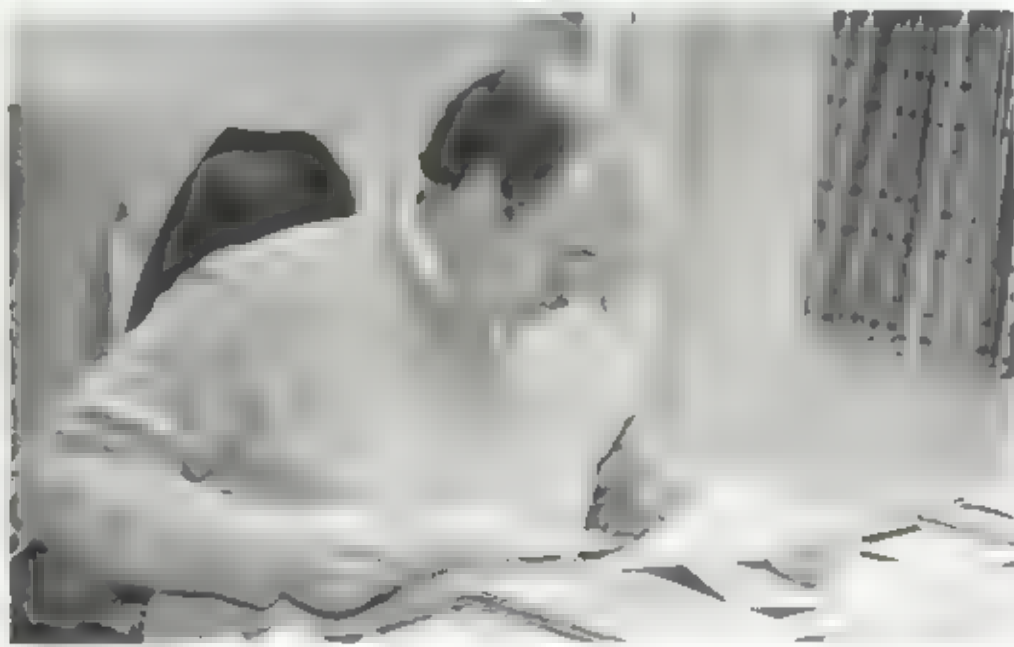

SEM INVADES EUROPE

On June 1, 1984, twenty-three students chaperoned by Mr. John Vaida and Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Costello set out for a European tour sponsored by the American Council for International Studies. During our three week trip we traveled through Madrid, Rome, Florence, Venice, Innsbruck, Lucerne, Paris and London. Although at times we were a little cramped in our hotel rooms, and would have loved to start off a day with an American breakfast, we grinned and ignored Europe's shortcomings. As a result, we took advantage of what we were offered, including numerous shopping excursions, museums, visits to famous sights, an evening gondola ride, a cruise down the Seine, day trips and even a view of Innsbruck from a mountaintop. Our interactions with Europeans as well as our own experiences have made the summer of 1984 unforgettable.

The 1984 Wyoming Seminary Field Hockey Team enjoyed a winning season of 13-4-2. The team also achieved second-place standings in its local division play and at the Moravian Invitational Tourney. Another highlight of the season was the handing of two shut-outs to the previously undefeated Lake Lehman hockey team. The success of the team was rooted in the masterful coaching of Karen Klassner and the much appreciated support of Michelle Izzo who coached the J.V. squad to an outstanding 11-1-2 record. The team's success was supplemented by the strong and capable leadership of co-captains Donna Zavada and Ann Marie Hendrzak whose unfailing spirit kept the team going through many hard games. Special thanks go to John Dickinson from the entire team for his constant support during both practices and games from beginning to end.

After returning from their successful tour of China and Japan this summer, the soccer team had high expectations for the season. Through hard work and determination, they lived up to, and even surpassed those expectations. The 1984-85 Blue Knights soccer team won the Central Pennsylvania Soccer Association Title.

The team ended with a 15-2 record this season, which breaks the school record for the most wins in a season. All in all, the team broke 14 school and individual records, including most goals scored—97, most shutouts and most wins in a row—11, just to name a few. The highlight of the season was a 5-0 victory over arch-rival Dallas, which clinched the league title for the team.

Leading the team this year were seniors John Wilson, Jon Berry, Paul Meagher, goalie Eric Griffith, John (Scoop) Evans, Rob Dougherty, Will Bain, and co-captains Jim Galante, and Gerry Gunster. Gerry, with his powerful and deadly accurate shooting, broke the all-time scoring record for a career, 47, this year.

Thanks to these guys and other very capable players, such as Juniors Chris Saul (Chris broke the record for the most assists in a season—12), Guy Gultstein, Jay Antinnes, Ken Eisner, and Steve Gruber, the team was able to attain the success it did.

With a core of returning, sophomores, and freshman, the team hopes for another successful season next year.

The soccer team would like to thank Dr. Andy Costello, the junior varsity coach, for the hard work he put in this year to lead the jayvees to a winning season and to prepare many of the promising jayvees for future varsity action. The team would especially like to thank Coach Ken Farshtey for his strong effort, support, and unique insight into the game. We are all grateful for the time and effort he has put in this summer for our trip to the far east, and especially grateful for his help this championship season. This was a very special year for the players as well as the coaches, and, thanks to all, this has been a season none of us will ever forget.

FOOTBALL

At the start of this year's season in August, outside Mr. Antinnes office, the 1984 football team met. This new group of football players came from many different places and from many different teams. These players who sat in quiet reverence waiting for the football season to start were expected to be the second-worst team in Wyoming Seminary history, and because of a disastrous 35-7 opening loss to Valley Forge Military Academy, this belief was strengthened. But from this loss, this group of players solidified and became a team, and from that point the 1984 Blue Knights football team would go on to win its next six games and end the season 6-1.

This year's season was one of the best win-loss records Wyoming Seminary has had in the last several years. Fans will not soon forget the thrills Frank, Casey, Jon, and Phil and the whole offense provided nor the surprise-play defense of this season. No one will ever forget the Homecoming Hail-Mary pass from Casey to Jon to Frank to Phil for forty yards and the score which won the game. But this season holds most of its memories for its players. The thoughts of Mr. Antinnes' Clip-board, or Mr. Vanderburg's "Bound, bound, bound" will always be with us. The long hard practices, the quiet moments before the game, the players that made the team, these memories and all the memories of this football team will live with these players forever.

FRONT ROW (LEFT TO RIGHT) T. Mugford, S. Kalins, V. Baran, K. Watkins, J. Banks FIRST ROW J. Mainwaring, A. Agati, T. Perkins, L. Chumetski, H. Aporick, L. Maslow SECOND ROW R. Rudin, Coach, K. Menn, A. Edwards, L. Lipski, M. Kosenak, C. Krincek, L. Kosenak, S. Shafer, Manager

The women's tennis team has had its fair share of injuries this season. One of our captains, Amy Cohn, was out early in the season with a serious arm injury. The team felt this loss greatly. Another name on our injured-reserved list was Debbie Smith, who has been plagued by a weak left ankle. Other (however trivial) injuries were suffered by Jonnell Mainwaring, who sprained her ankle, and Laura Chumetski, who SLIGHTLY (?) injured her waist (ask her how). Our remaining healthy captain was Kim Watkins (Kim won her singles???). Some of the illustrious names on our team were Jen Banks, Laura Chumetski, Jonnell Mainwaring, Shelly Kalins, Vicki Baran, Tara Mugford (ask her about the football locker room), Leslie Maslow, Angela Agati, Heather Aponick, and Tammy Perkins. These top 12 comprised the varsity (translated: they're the ones who get out of gym). Some of the few-and-far-between highlights of the season had to have been Laura's overhead, Kim's winning her first singles match, the road trip to state College (Darling Nikki), Debbie's emergency, Mrs. Rudin's bogus drills, and the little spat (catfight) between Kim and the Amazon about lines at Pittston. Faithfully guided by Mrs. Rudin and Mr. Karr, the team finished the season at 6-6. The only seniors on the team were Vicki and me, so next year's team should be promising. Good luck, you guys.

SECOND ROW: J. Ross, M. Burnside, R. Lytle, A. Phipps, C. Parente

This year's Golf Team was led by senior captain Rob Lytle. With strong play by juniors J. P. Ward and Bob Gouldin, the team was expected to earn postseason honors. These aspirations were, however, a bit premature. Soon the team found itself struggling in order to finish the season with a winning record. This year was no ordinary season. The team struggled through all kinds of elements to finish matches and practices. Returning next year to help Doc Moriarity's quest for the championship will be some highly touted golfers, J. P. Ward, Bob Gouldin, and Mac Burnside. Other blue-chippers that Doc Moriarity has hidden away are Vaughn Blight and Chuck Parente. Best of luck next year, Doc, on your continuing journey.

FALL EVENTS

BOARDER INITIATION

DECLAMATION

The 1984 version of the Declamation Contest involved a variety of forms and represented a balanced cross section of the student body. Two seniors, one junior, and one sophomore made this year's competition one of the best ever. Mark Johns, a sophomore, led the competition with a patriotic version of fictional hero Mark Bolan, a Vietnam Veteran. Mark's presentation reminded all of us of our duty to our country in this election year. Next was senior Joe Noussair. Joe's version of Woody Allen's Commencement Address was, to say the least, very witty. Following Joe was the second senior, Kristen Imperiale, who did a stirring rendition of the Greek mythological figure Medea. Returning to Contemporary Art, the final competitor, junior Sarah Rothchild, performed Bette Midler's Baby Divine in what proved to be a very entertaining version. The judges, after much deliberation, made a difficult decision and named Mark Johns the winner of this year's Declamation Contest. Mark, Kristen, Joe, and Sarah all did very nice jobs in preparing for the event. They were all highly entertaining, and each of them deserves to be commended for a great effort.

FOUNDERS' DAY

This year's Founders' Day celebration on October 15, 1984 was unusual in two respects. For the first time, students were involved in the ceremony and, also for the first time, the Distinguished Service Awards were presented to a father and his son, Mr. Theodore S. Abbot and Mr. Quincy S. Abbot. Following the invocation by Larry Roth, Rob Lytle introduced the Bell Choir, who performed for the first time, directed by Mr. John Vaida. The chorale joined them on "Sing the Lord's Song" and also sang "Lean on Me". Kristen Imperiale reminded us of the importance of Founders' Day, a day set aside to honor those who have contributed to the excellence and advancement of this Institution. She also called upon students to seek inspiration in their own endeavors from the hard work and success of these two men.

At the conclusion of Dr. Stettler's speech, a standing ovation confirmed a fact mentioned in the speech: that students and faculty who know Mr. Abbot "... owe him love and respect."

Mr. Quincy S. Abbot decided to break away from the family tradition of teaching. He too has been highly successful in his career. But just as importantly, he has brought honor and pride to his Alma Mater through his nationwide work to help the mentally retarded. Mr. Abbot attributes his success to his maintaining a sense of humor and to his recognition of the potential in everyone.

At the conclusion of the presentation, Donna Zavada rang the Cokesbury Bell and the Reverend Gregory Myers offered the benediction.

Homecoming for the year 1984 started off with a big bang, signifying the rivalry between the Seminary Blue Knights and the Perkiomen Indians.

This year's Homecoming theme was 'television,' a crucial aspect of a Seminary student's life. Float construction and skit preparation commenced Friday afternoon, each society possessing a dedicated crew of artists and builders who labored industriously in hopes of winning first place. Later that evening, a pep rally and bonfire motivated the soccer and football teams, and amusing skits were performed by the contesting societies.

Saturday began beautifully, with warm weather and enthusiastic parents and students present at Nesbitt Field. In the morning, our well-travelled soccer team won 6-0 over the Perkiomen Indians. In the afternoon our football players were victorious over Perkiomen 35-34, in a game that kept the anxious crowd on the edge of its seat. During half-time Lynne Morgan was crowned Homecoming Queen. Megan Hedden, Erin Hinchey, and Emma Simms constituted her court.

The football game was followed by a reception with parents, faculty, students, and real food. A successful talent auction and a "Victory Dance" concluded the fun-filled and unforgettable weekend.

FALL PRODUCTION

On November 9 and 10, the Wyoming Seminary Players presented their autumn production, Seven Keys to Baldpate, by George M. Cohan, under the direction of Mr. W. Carver Collins. Rob Collins, in the role of author William Hallowell Magee, makes a bet with a rich friend that he can finish a novel within twenty-four hours. Coming to Baldpate Inn in search of the necessary seclusion, he is continually interrupted by a host of nefarious characters, among whom are corrupt politicians, played by Charles Cino, Paul Carpenter and Steve Walsh; beautiful and alluring women, played by Karen Christianson and Angela Tama; a ghost, Allison Nelson; police officers, Anthony Stallone, Andy Kellman and Vaughn Blight; a thief, Will Hartman; a cranky hermit, played by Chris Fehlinger; and a couple of countrified caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Quimby, played by Kristen Imperiale and Doug Turner.

The plot turns on the whereabouts of a large sum of money, with new twists added with the appearance of each new character carrying one of the seven keys to Baldpate. All concludes on a positive note when our author wins his bet, foiling the attempts of his adversary to prevent the completion of his novel with these calculated interruptions.

GOVERNMENT ACTIVITIES

Every year the Wyoming Seminary School Government organizes a project that has helped hundreds of needy families enjoy a Thanksgiving meal. By raising funds through the school community, we are able to purchase a turkey and the many extras that go with a traditional Thanksgiving meal. This year, as in the past, volunteers were not difficult to find. These volunteers, representing all classes, displayed much enthusiasm for this worthy project. The memories of this year's project will be long-lasting for all who were involved. The expression on the faces of the recipients was all the thanks we needed for our efforts.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The boys' 1984-85 basketball team searched for an identity this year, with several players, trying both offensive and defensive positions with which they weren't entirely familiar. All of last year's starters returned, and all but two letter-winners from the 1983-84 team were with the squad this year. Seniors on the team included Jim Galante, Rob Lytle, Don Jennings, and Chas Williams. Jay Antinnes, Bob Kelley, Chris Saul, and Jim Galante provided our back-court strength. Ken Lovett played forward along with Rob Lytle, and shared the 'big-man' duties with Chris Berry, Brian Bufalino and Bucky Hughes.

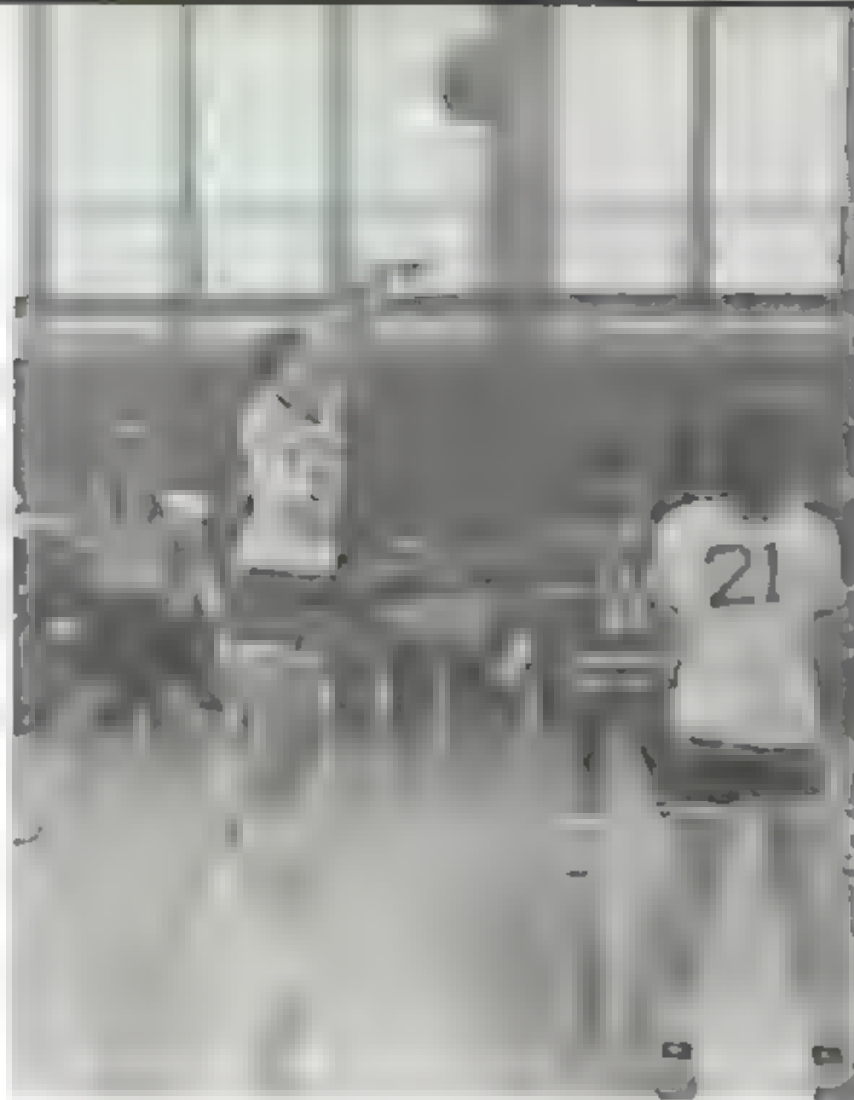

Although our record wasn't as good as we had hoped, we were greatly improved from last year. We were a real threat to other teams in the league, and we won and lost many games by only a few points. While the rest of the student body was skiing and vacationing during Christmas break, we were in the gym, twice a day, sharpening our skills.

Our work paid off, and the team can be proud of our improvements. Next year promises to be even better because most of the starters from this year's squad will be returning.

Girls Basketball

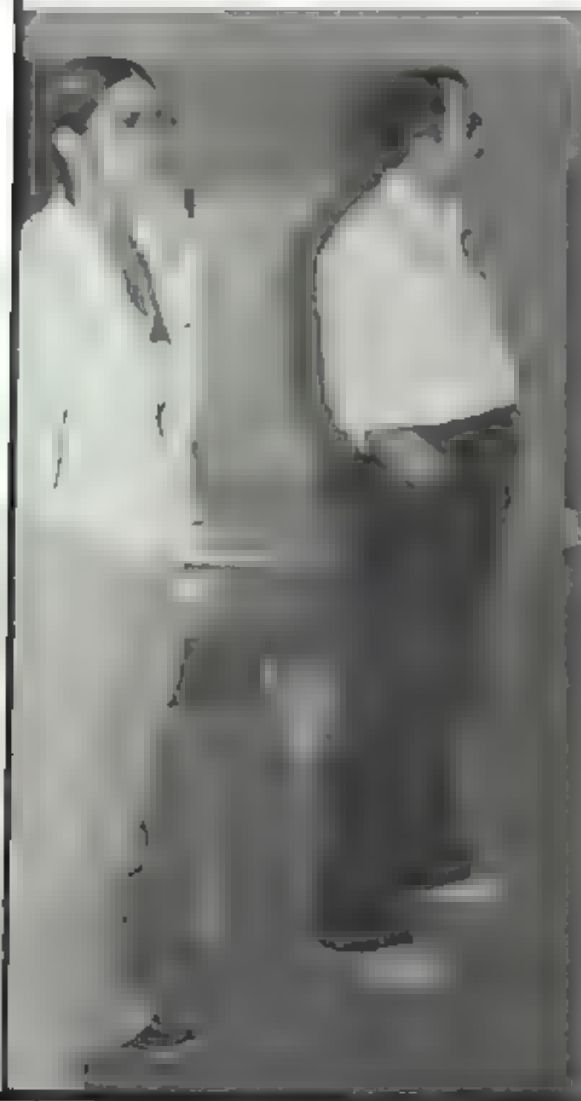

The Wyoming Seminary Girls Basketball team has had a successful season so far this year. We started the season with a defeat to Lake Lehman, which was a major upset. Crestwood was the next major upset we had hoped for, but unfortunately we lost to them by two points on their court, though we managed to defeat them 47 to 38 on our court. Our losses have been very close. We lost to Lake Lehman and Q.A.R. in overtime by just a few points. We were really demolished in only two of our games.

We have three starters who will return next year: Lisa Burak, Leigh Lawrence, and Tammy Perkins. We will lose Donna Zavada, Ann Harder, and Laura Maturi, all of whom we will miss very much. The team looks really promising; Assistant Coach Meyers says "It's the best team I've seen at Seminary in a long time. Why? Because we play together, we look good together and of course, we look bad together."

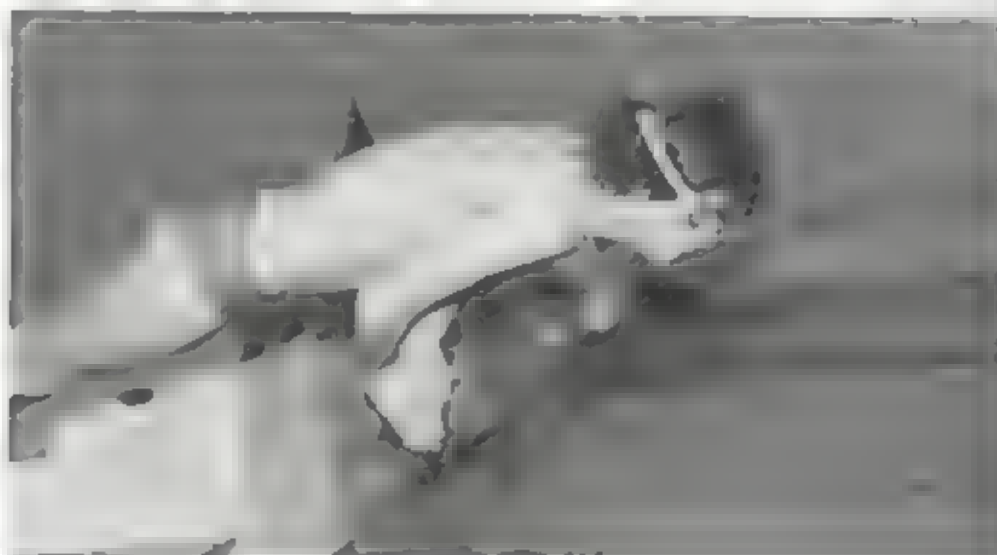

There is a strategy behind our skills. We have diligently trained and studied for the game. Our coach Karen Klassner has been very patient and cooperative with us throughout the season.

We look forward to next year when we plan to be division champions.

BOYS' SWIMMING

FIRST ROW (LEFT TO RIGHT) W. Hartman, N. Lottick, G. Gutstein, SECOND ROW K. Brown, E. Sands, R. Oouldin, C. Chiang, D. Reiff, J. Miller, THIRD ROW Coach Wm. Conlon, E. Mahler, E. Cohen, P. Mahler, H. Lippelt, R. Racusin, J. Aten

The swim team with its new coach Bill Conlon will probably have winning seasons for the next three years. Under the leadership of the captain, Noah Lottick, and co-captains, Guyler Gutstein and Will Hartman, the team has turned its losing seasons around in the past two years. The most promising swimmers for the future are Paul Mahler, and Kevin Brown. Erich Mahler, as a freshman, has already broken the school's record in the 200 meter individual medley. The other hopefuls are Guyler Gutstein, Will Hartman, Clarence Chiang, Donny Reiff, Jason Miller, Bob Gouldin, and Eric Cohen. Bob Gouldin and Eric Cohen are the team's divers. Bob is also an excellent short distance swimmer. One can always count on a few points from Noah Lottick, Henry Lippelt, Bob Racusin, and Emile Sands. If one were to look at the swim team's attrition rate, one would think that swimming was the hardest sport ever. Between the physical hardships, the muscle pain, and the mental anguish, swimming is a sport that builds character.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

The 1984-85 team consisted of young, inexperienced swimmers. The great number of new swimmers originally felt optimistic. However, we lost more meets than we had anticipated.

Profiting greatly from the leadership of its new head coach, Bill Conlon, the team worked harder than it had in years. Team members spent many hours in the pool and worked out in the weight room as well. Co-captains this year were Lori Woicicki and Andrea Hendrzak. Dr. Fred Fagal was the assistant coach and accompanied the girls to their meets.

Veteran swimmers Kris Ertley, Shelly Lefchak, Lori Woicicki, Andrea Hendrzak and Ann Marie Hendrzak practiced daily with the new team members. The team even practiced twice a day on certain occasions. With this kind of dedication to the spirit of swimming, next year's team should provide a winning season for Wyoming Seminary.

WRESTLING

This year's season is best described as a building one for the Wyoming Seminary wrestling team. Along with returning players John Ammeen, Ben Cabot, Trevor Smith, and Todd Vonderheid, the team was greatly fortified by many new and talented players; Chan Lee, Steve Samli, Mike Jenkins, Dave Butler, Seok Hyon Jo, Kevin McGurn, and Todd Lewis. Led by co-captains Paul Riegert and John Charnetski, who provided strong leadership, we were able to show our school some excellent wrestling.

The season started off with a most impressive win over Moravian Academy. Team veterans pulled their weight dutifully, but thanks must go to the newcomers whose hard work and dedication made the victory possible. Unfortunately we then went on to suffer three straight losses against formidable opponents Blair Academy, Perkiomen, and Valley Forge, but soon rallied to defeat Scranton Tech. and Moravian once again. Our seasonal record ended 3-4, a promising debut for a largely inexperienced team. Certainly most deserving of M.V.P. recognition was Dave Butler, who having never wrestled before, improved dramatically throughout the season. Sincere thanks must go to our coach, Mr. Flick. His long experience and ample knowledge of the sport have begun the molding of this year's team into the victorious one of 1986.

WINTER EVENTS

ORATORICAL CONTEST

The annual Oratorical Contest was held in February, and our Seminary audience was treated to four noteworthy performances. Simon Becker spoke about the necessity of increased defense spending, Mark Johns elaborated on the Subway Vigilante, and Anthony Stallone enlightened us about the hazards of cigarette smoking. Kristen Imperiale took the prize with her presentation enumerating the perils of drunk driving. Mr. Malcolm Smith auditioned and selected the contestants and introduced each speaker. The judges this year were Miss Desmond, a Redak specialist, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Nageli.

CHRISTMAS OPEN HOUSE

WINTER PRODUCTION

This year's winter production, Thornton Wilder's Our Town, provided all involved with an exciting and educational dramatic experience. Working with minimal props and scenic effects, the actors responded to the demands thus placed upon them with performances which thoroughly entertained the audiences both evenings.

The cast was distinguished by its wide variety of performers, including stage newcomers Janice Jones and Robert Koons as the lead characters Emily Webb and George Gibbs. Veteran Kristen Imperiale made her final stage appearance at Seminary; a large conglomeration of the ever-popular faculty faces reappeared on our stage.

The play centers on the love story of Emily Webb and George Gibbs. The Stage Manager, masterfully portrayed by Mr. Cabot, leads the audiences on a tour of Grover's Corner, as shown "in its living, its marrying, and its dying." The Webbs, played by Dr. Costello and Kristen Imperiale, and the Gibbs, played by Mr. Kersey and Mrs. Thackara, each strengthened the realism of the play with their convincing performances. Rounding out the lineup was Mr. Vaida and Miss Morris, who developed into amusing and memorable characters.

The play would not, however, have been successful without the superb direction of Mr. Collins and the tremendous support and participation of many, many other actors and technical people.
